AWARENESS ON TOBACCO USE AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:09.04.21

Venue: Tufan building center, Amalapuram

Faculty: Dr.Vamseedhar

Number of students attended: 10

SUMMARY:

The fact that today's descendants will make up tomorrow's present is an unquestionable historical fact. A strict anti-tobacco campaign was directed at the most intelligent young people in the community in line with this idea. More focus was placed on cigarettes' infamous side effects and tendency to cause cancer. They were also instructed to act boldly and vigorously spread this message if they came across any members of this hall of slander.

A dental screening camp was organised by the Department of Public Health Dentistry as a part of a programme to lessen tobacco use, abuse, and misuse. The population that was being screened ranged in age from 20 to 45. Out of the 250 individuals who were screened, 150 were men and 100 were women. After screening, more than sizes of dental cavities and gingivitis brought on by tooth plaque were found.

PREVENTIVE ORAL HEALTH AWARENESS AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date: 12.03.21

Venue: Sardar Bhagat singh school, Amalapuram

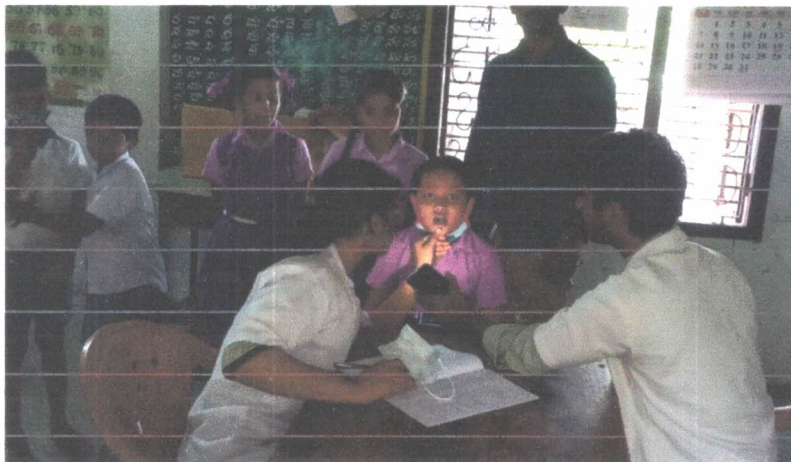

Faculty: Dr. Puja Devi

Number of students attended: 8

SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Health Dentistry organised an oral screening camp to compile a resounding dissemination of the preventative oral health care procedures. Dental caries, chronic generalised periodontitis, and gingivitis caused by dental plaque all had alarmingly high prevalence rates.

The goal of the Department of Public Health Dentistry was to educate children about the importance of maintaining good oral health. In order to encourage people to start, instil, and practise the same until the day it becomes a daily routine, the many aspects of preventing drawing up from a balanced diet, oral hygiene practises that included the ideal brushing technique, interdental and tongue cleaning, and regular dental consultations were explained in an assiduous manner.

ORAL HEALTH AWARENESS AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:23.02.21

Venue: Amalapuram

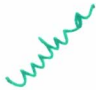

Faculty: Dr.Puja Devi

Number of students attended: 5

SUMMARY:

In order to effectively spread the practises for maintaining good oral health, the Department of Pediatric Dentistry organised an oral screening camp. There were disturbingly high incidence rates for dental caries, generalised chronic periodontitis, and plaque-induced gingivitis.

Education of youngsters on the value of maintaining good dental health was the aim of the Department of Pediatric Dentistry. The many benefits of preventing drawing up from a balanced diet, oral hygiene practises that included the ideal brushing technique, interdental and tongue cleaning, and routine dental consultations were meticulously explained in order to encourage people to start, instil, and practise the same until the day it becomes a daily routine.

ORAL HEALTH AWARENESS AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:05.01.21

Venue: Gram Panchayat, Botlakurru

Faculty: Dr.Avinash

Number of students attended: 7

SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Health Dentistry organised a dental screening camp and a booming echoing of the numerous features and sapience of oral health. There were 110 people that were screened, ranging in age from 6 to 17 years. Males were listed as being 45 and females as being 65 on a pedantic demographic recording. While several records of dental plaque-induced gingivitis and dental caries were made, a few recherché records such as congenitally missing teeth, enamel hypoplasia, and malocclusions were also made. We established this camp to commemorate the beginning of our 1,000-mile journey because we felt there was a pressing need to completely cover the knowledge and awareness gap on oral health that exists in society. The seeming triviality of oral disorders was vehemently refuted, and the importance of oral health care was underlined. This fundamental reality was drilled into the minds of those present: the mouth cavity plays an imposing role in the mirroring and modification of systemic disease.

ORAL HEALTH AWARENESS AND SCHOOL DENTAL CAMP

Date:19.12.20

Venue: KM Agraharam

Faculty: Dr.Avinash

Number of students attended: 5

SUMMARY:

Given the significance of dental health, any neglect might have catastrophic repercussions. Regular dental appointments are necessary for optimal dental hygiene practises. The Department of Pedodontics at Kims Dental College set up free dental clinics in several towns near Amalapuram to address this issue. With the aid of audio-visual aids, an interesting discussion regarding dental health was held. The most prevalent illnesses among the populace were shown to be dental caries and gingivitis brought on by tooth plaque.

AWARENESS ON TOBACCO USE AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:11.11.20

Venue: Gram Panchayat. Cheyyeru

Faculty Dr.Avinash

Number of students attended: 8

SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Health Dentistry planned a dental screening camp in conjunction with a programme to reduce tobacco use, abuse, and misuse. the group being screened ranged in age from 6 to 18. It goes without saying that today's descendants will make up tomorrow's present. In keeping with this philosophy, a vigorous campaign against cigarette use was directed toward the society's brightest young people. They were taught in a captivating and logical way how to avoid being seduced by the egregiously unjust social demagogue of tobacco. They were taught how to avoid being seduced by the egregiously immoral social rhetoric of tobacco use and the relentlessly depressing downward spiral they would experience if they chose to travel down this forbidden path in an engaging and deliberate manner. More attention was placed on the well-known effects of tobacco and its ability to cause cancer. Additionally, they were urged to have bravery and vigorously spread this message if they came across any members of this hall of slander.

SUMMARY:

A patent is a set of rights given exclusively to an individual by an independent nation to the inventor or discoverer for a given duration in exchange for detailed information on the details of the inventions or the discovery. The dental profession has long had to deal with practical issues related to the patenting of manufacturing processes for substances and devices used in disease prevention, diagnosis, and treatment. Due to intense research in the field and ongoing competition, dentistry has recently become interested in the area of intellectual property rights and patents. The most recent inventions in the world today are all being made in the field of dentistry, yet they are unable to achieve their full social worth because of ignorance of IPR and patents. This program focused on helping dental professionals involved in research and development understand IPR and patents in general. As a result, this would also serve as a dental all.
