CLEANLINESS AWARENESS AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:13.05.22

Venue: Govt. School, Amalapuram

Faculty:Dr.V.Avinash

Number of students attended: 8

SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Health Dentistry, Kims Dental College, arranged a camp that included routine dental screenings and a strong message about living a life that is uplifting and encapsulating the notion of cleanliness. There were 160 men and 90 women out of a total of 250 participants that were screened. The age range of the tested population was 20 to 77. The universal screening results showed an extremely high prevalence of dental caries, chronic generalised periodontitis, and dental plaque-induced gingivitis.

If good health is the coveted heaven, then cleanliness is unquestionably the doorway. The unclean practises that do not adhere to the paradigm of hygiene and sanitation must be stopped since they are alarmingly being carried out in unparalleled quantities. Initiating and maintaining practises that scream cleanliness was also encouraged, along with a frank and tenacious tenacity and resolve.

Date:08.04.22

Venue:Y.N.College, Narsapur

Faculty: Dr.V.Avinash

Number of students attended:10

SUMMARY:

In India, tobacco consumption has increased dramatically. Recently, teenagers are developing bad habits at earlier and younger ages. A camp was held by the Department of Public Health Dentistry in a private engineering college in Amalapuram to increase awareness of the negative consequences of tobacco. The students ranged in age from 18 to 24. 469 of them in total were examined. In 55% of the children, dental caries was found. 21% of them had malocclusion, and virtually all of them had deposits like calculus and debris. One in fifteen of them used tobacco in some way.

AWARENESS ON ORAL HEALTH AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:17.03.22

Venue: Edarapalle

Faculty: Dr.Kartteek Eswara

SUMMARY:

Due to the importance of dental health, any neglect could have devastating consequences. For better dental hygiene practises, regular dentist visits are essential. In order to solve this problem, the Kims Dental College Department of Pedodontics established free dental clinics in a number of Amalapuram-area towns. An engaging talk about dental health was held while using audio-visual materials. Dental caries and gingivitis caused by dental plaque were found to be the most common conditions among the population.

TOBACCO AWARENESS AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:04.03.22

Venue: community hall, Edarapalle

Faculty:Dr.V.Avinash

Number of students attended:11

SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Health Dentistry organised a dental screening camp as part of a campaign to reduce tobacco use, abuse, and misuse. The age range of the screened population was 20 to 45. 147 of the 280 people who were screened were men, while the remaining 133 were women. Gingivitis caused by tooth plaque and dental cavities were observed in more than sizes after screening.

A time-tested truth that doesn't require any explanation is that today's descendants will make up tomorrow's present. In keeping with this philosophy, a strict anti-tobacco campaign was targeted at the society's brightest young people. They were taught how to avoid being enticed by the plentiful wealth in a captivating and meticulous manner. The sinful social demagogue of tobacco use, as well as the unrelenting downward spiral they would experience if they chose to travel down this forbidden road. The infamous effects of cigarettes and its propensity for cancer were emphasised more. If they came across any members of this hall of slander, they were further urged to act with boldness and actively promote this message.

PREVENTIVE ORAL HEALTH AWARENESS AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:16.02.22

Venue: Amalapuram

Faculty: Dr.Kartteek Eswara

Number of students attended:10

SUMMARY:

Kims Dental College's public health dentistry department organised a free dental camp. The kids ranged in age from 3 to 15 years old. Audiovisual aids were used to deliver interactive oral health education. The person in charge of the students was advised that the kids who had dental issues needed to get help. Multiple deciduous and permanent teeth were affected by dental caries in 52% of the youngsters. 18% of the children exhibited malocclusion, while everyone else had calculus and debris deposits close by.

AWARENESS ON BLOOD DONATION AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:04.01.22

Venue: KIMS Hospital, Amalapuram

Faculty: Dr.Himaja

Number of students attended: 5

SUMMARY:

A dental screening camp enclosing a drive to revitalize the population to utter flowerful practice of blood donation, has been organized by the Department of Public Health Dentistry. The population was screened between the age of 17 to 35 years. A total of 177 screened, 125 were males and the rest were females. Dental caries and dental plaque induced gingivitis were noted in huge ratio at the time of screening.

The eccentricity of life is far off the sovereign state of mortal prediction and unanticipated emergencies which leads to huge blood loss and a number of incidents repeat on a everyday basis. Donating blood can save someone's life and their family's livelihood and a healthy community as well.

Date:22.12.21

Venue: Z.P.High School, Vemavarapupadu

Faculty: Dr.V.Avinash

Number of students attended: 10

SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Health Dentistry conducted dental screening camp along with providing adequate knowledge regarding the chronic stress being underwent by the present-day generation. Of the 145 people screened, the gender distribution was almost the same and were between the age of 10-20 years. The major findings observed are the dental caries and the Chronic Generalized Gingivitis.

There is no need for conscious reflection to recognize the rising incidence of stress in society. This overarching, pernicious state of mind, which has stumbled to its apotheosis in society and is now tying everyone from toddlers to octogenarians to it, is the result of various aspects of daily life. The negative and decadent effects it has on human beings' ability to function healthily were carefully explained. Chronic long-term systemic problems and stress-induced exacerbations of diseases were highlighted.

SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Health Dentistry at Kims Dental College held a camp with a focus on the Swachh Bharat campaign, a gumption-laden programme of the Indian government, as well as routine dental screenings. 237 persons in all were screened, of which there were 74 women and 163 men. The age range of the tested population was 6 to 17. Inferring from the screening results, a very high prevalence of dental caries and dental plaque-induced gingivitis was found.

The Swachh Bharat movement is gaining momentum as a clever effort momentum on a national scale, and this effort sought to speed up this kindling inferno. The many levels of implementing health and hygiene—which go hand in hand—from the household to the community and society were outlined in depth. The importance of cleanliness to health was outlined in lucid detail, and it was highlighted that it was the strongest weapon available to fight off the alarmingly increasing diseases and infections.

DENTAL SCREENING AND ORAL HEALTH AWARENESS CAMP

Date:17.12.21

Venue: Samanasa

Faculty: Dr.V.Avinash

Number of students attended:6

SUMMARY:

A camp including regular dental screening and oral health education programme was organized by the Department of Public Health Dentistry, Kims Dental College, Amalapuram. A total of 237 individuals were screened among which 89 were males and 148 were females. The population screened fell in the age group of 8-16 years. To infer the findings obtained upon screening, the highest prevalence of dental caries, plaque induced gingivitis and poor oral hygiene habits were observed.

In order to indulge the attitude of “PREVENTION IS BETTER THAN CURE”, the significance of maintaining oral hygiene and the way of implementation were explained in a knowledgeable manner. Emphasis was also laid on importance of regular dental checkups and the consequences of the further infirmity.

DENTAL SCREENING AND ORAL HEALTH AWARENESS CAMP

Date:07.12.21

Venue: Govt. school, Amalapuram

Faculty: Dr.V.Avinash

Number of students attended: 10

SUMMARY:

To uplift the perspective of the students regarding the oral hygiene practice, Department of Public Health Dentistry has planned for so called GO-SMART oral Health Screening programme which has given a broad knowledge of proper brushing habits and interdental flossing. The screened population were between the age of 6-17 years. A total of 160 students were screened.

This camp was started to commemorate the beginning of our vast journey because there is an urgent need to fill the knowledge and awareness gap that is present in society around oral health. The seeming triviality of oral disorders was vehemently refuted, and the importance of oral health care was underlined.

HIV AWARENESS AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:30.11.21

Venue: Kims Hospital, Amalapuram

Faculty: Dr.Sowmya

Number of students attended:10

SUMMARY:

The Department of Oral and Maxillofacial surgery arranged a dental screening camp and an AIDS awareness campaign. It was screened population ranging in age from 35 to 70. 250 people were screened in total, and 156 of them were women. Upon screening, dental caries, chronic generalised periodontitis, and partial states of edentulism were found at alarmingly high proportions.

The extremely delicate topic at hand was diligently and tactfully handled using the language of the people to communicate. Progressively defeated were the pervasive voodooos and the strict oppression of the sick based on unproven myths and beliefs. The goal was to alter their perspective and paradigm so they would accept, if not embrace, individuals who had the sickness.

TOBACCO AWARENESS AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:19.11.21

Venue: Suzuki showroom, amalapuram

Faculty: Dr.Avinash

Number of students attended: 5

SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Health Dentistry organised a dental screening camp and a resonant resounding of the different features and sapience of oral health. 110 individuals between the ages of 20 and 60 were screened. Males were recorded as being 45 and females as being 65 in a pedantic demographic recording. Gingivitis and dental caries were caused by Numerous dental cases of caries were identified, along with a few recherche findings such congenitally absent teeth, enamel hypoplasia, and malocclusions.

We established this camp to celebrate the beginning of this 1,000-mile journey because there is an urgent need to fill the knowledge and awareness gap on oral health that is present in society. It was strongly argued against that oral problems are ostensibly unimportant, and the need of oral health care was underlined. The oral cavity plays a significant part in the mirroring and modification of systemic disease, and this fact was drilled into the brains of everyone present.

HIV AWARENESS AND ORAL SCREENING CAMP

Date:06.11.21

Venue:Community hall, Rayudupalem

Faculty: Dr.Avinash

Number of students attended: 8

SUMMARY:

A dental screening camp circumscribing a crusade of educating the assembled masses regarding the HIV-AIDS was conducted by Department of Public Health Dentistry. The population screened were 128 between 17-60 years of age among which 70 were females and 58 were males. A marked proportions of dental caries and dental plaque induced gingivitis were noted.

People with this sickness live in social exclusion and are despised by society, being often considered as a malediction placed upon civilization and contempt. The many manifestations of this illness, the methods of transmission, and the facilities for diagnosis, therapy, and providing calming measures, therapies were thoroughly explained. Additionally, social stigma imposed on the diseased was strongly decried, and precautions were taken to protect others who were worried from catching the illness.
