CLEANLINESS AWARENESS AND DENTAL SCREENING CAMP

Date: 17.05.18

Venue: Govt. School, Amalapuram

Faculty: Dr.G.Priyanka

Number of students attended: 10

SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Health Dentistry, Kims Dental College, arranged a camp that included routine dental screenings and a strong message about living a life that is uplifting and encapsulating the notion of cleanliness. There were 130 men and 70 women out of a total of 200 participants that were screened. The age range of the tested population was 25 to 45. The universal screening results showed an extremely high prevalence of dental caries, chronic generalised periodontitis, and dental plaque-induced gingivitis.

If good health is the coveted heaven, then cleanliness is unquestionably the doorway. The unclean practises that do not adhere to the paradigm of hygiene and sanitation must be stopped since they are alarmingly being carried out in unparalleled quantities. Initiating and maintaining practises that scream cleanliness was also encouraged, along with a frank and tenacious tenacity and resolve.

SUMMARY:

By putting the old saying "PREVENTION IS BETTER THAN CURE" into practise, it became clear that entering the dangerous world of tobacco abuse would lead to a downward spiral of declining financial stability and negative health. They were given an academic explanation of the range of illnesses brought on by tobacco use in order to dispel any lingering doubts they may have had about the subject. The importance of resolutely avoiding peer pressure and staying away from this prohibited road was also emphasised.

There were 55 women and 75 men in the 130 participants that were screened. An age range of 16 to 40 years was present in the population that was screened. An extremely high prevalence of dental caries and dental plaque-induced gingivitis was observed, which is in line with the screening results' broad findings.

SUMMARY:

A free dental camp was organised by the public health dentistry department of Kims Dental College. Ages of the children ranged from three to fifteen. In order to give interactive oral health education, audiovisual tools were used. It was suggested to the person in charge of the students that the children who had dental problems should get assistance. Dental caries impacted both multiple deciduous and permanent teeth in 52% of the children. All of the children had calculus and debris deposits nearby, and only 18% of them had malocclusion.

SUMMARY:

An oral health awareness campaign and a dental screening camp were organised by the Department of Public Health Dentistry. A total of 110 people between the ages of 20 and 60 underwent screening. In a pedantic demographic recording, men were listed as being 45 and women as being 65. Dental cavities and gingivitis were brought on by Along with a number of research discoveries such congenitally missing teeth, enamel hypoplasia, and malocclusions, many dental cases of caries were found.

Because there is an urgent need to close the knowledge and awareness gap on oral health that is currently existent in society, we organised this camp to commemorate the start of this 1,000-mile journey.

SUMMARY:

The amount of tobacco consumed in India has substantially increased. Teenagers are now acquiring harmful habits at younger and earlier ages. To raise awareness of the harmful effects of tobacco, the Department of Public Health Dentistry organised a camp at a private engineering college in Yanam. The pupils were between the ages of 18 and 24. A total of 200 of them were investigated. There was dental caries in 55% of the kids. Nearly all of them had deposits like calculus and debris, and 21% of them had malocclusion. Of them, one in fifteen used cigarettes in some capacity.
